

This letter serves as formal permission from _____, allowing Hangar 1018 and The Always Festival permission to show the film “_____” at The Always Festival. Hangar 1018 has the right to show the film at their discretion, and is hereby granted the right to make use any and all materials submitted with the film for it’s own marketing purposes. The copyright holder of the film may suggest, but cannot demand that the film be shown on any particular date or time, or with any other media. General marketing tools and materials may be provided by Hangar 1018 to promote the festival, but no marketing materials for the film in specific will be provided. Film makers are encouraged to promote their own films and create their own marketing materials if they so desire. Hangar 1018 and the Always festival will provide the marketing team of the respective films with general fliers for the festival upon request. Hangar 1018 may promote individual films at it’s option via word of mouth, fliers, and the Hangar1018.com website as well as other internet marketing and networking tools at their own discretion. Hangar 1018 reserves the right to retain all copies of the submitted materials, and it is fully understood that these materials will not be returned. Hangar 1018 will not profit directly by the sale of or the submitted materials or by charging for it’s viewing, or replicating the submitted media. Hangar 1018 does not hold any copyrights with the film in specific whatsoever, and is therefore released of any liability that may ensue due to copyright infringement by the above signed person.
